LOUISIANA CONSOLIDATED LIFTING 600,000 GALLONS WATER DAILY

The Louisiana Con. Mining Co. has solved the water problem which had given Manager Ott Helzer so much anxiety following the installation of the steam plant. The pumps are running by electricity and making good headway. The water level has been lowered to 270 feet and the pumps are lifting 450 gallons a minute working 24 hours a day.

Power is generated by a Diesel engine rated at 155 horse power and consuming 370 gallons of crude oil daily. The cost of the fuel is 6 1/2 cents laid down in Tonopah and it is estimated that the cost on the ground at Tybo is about 14 cents a gallon. When the pumping began the water was lowered at the rate of 10 feet a day but this diminished to three feet as the level took in the accumulation of eight years in the old drifts and slopes and, when the 300 level is reached, with its drift of 2000 feet it would not surprise the management to find the sinking fall off to one foot every 24 hours, owing to the immense area to be drained. The new station pump is on the 200 foot level, direct connected electric, supplied by a vertical centrifugal sinker. Power is supplied by a 75 K. W. generator and an Ingersoll Rand Imperial compressor of 600 cubic feet capacity is included in the equipment. The company experimented with direct steam pumps but found the loss of power was too great owing to the fact that the water in the mine is ice cold and that the power would be chilled so quickly that there was no economy in the operation. In addition the cost of raising steam with crude oil at such a distance from the railroad proved prohibitory as the consumption for direct steam action called for 2200 gallons a day.

The company is still sorting the dumps and has shipped one carload of 50 tons of highgrade lead ore running at the rate of 40 per cent lead. A shipment of zinc-silver ore is being hauled to Tonopah which is expected to give equally satisfactory results owing to the high silver content of 50 ounces. This ore is treated by the U. S. Smelting and Refining company at Salt Lake. Manager Helzer is confident that he has the water under perfect control and that in the course of a couple of months mining will be in full swing.

ELKS TREAT THEIR GUESTS WITH TONOPAH'S USUAL HOSPITALITY

It was a tired but happy crowd of Elks who found their way to their restful couches this morning after two days and nights of strenuous doings that were limited only by the capacity of the members of absorbing enjoyment. Beginning Saturday night, and lasting well into Sunday two classes aggregating some forty members were put through the ordeal of riding the goat and indulging in other capers dangerous to the dignity of the average citizen. Then came a day of rest spent in looking after the various places of attraction in and around Tonopah including, a trip to Goldfield shared by five carloads of travelers. As the shades of evening fell and the cool breezes swept in from the mountains hosts and guest gathered again in the Hospitable Elks Home where the most elaborate entertainment ever placed before a Tonopah audience was presented. The spacious banquet hall had been decorated in artistic style and the tables set for 225 members who sat down in eager anticipation of the good things to follow. Arthur Keenan, exalted ruler, opened the program with an apt speech and then called Ivan Arnold to the chair to officiate as toastmaster. After that there was not a solitary second without its pleasures for the program was arranged with masterly versatility that kept the banqueters agog as to each succeeding attraction presented through the medium of ten entertainers.

The list of toasts called for responses by Milton Detch, L. K. Koonitz, Frank J. Dunn, Senator J. H. Fulmer, George Whitley, district attorney of White Pine county, and Anthony Jurich his predecessor in office. The remarks were all tinged with patriotic sentiments and flavored with fraternalism. During the evening the programme was further enlivened by a four piece orchestra which discoursed patriotic and popular airs until the hour for dispersing.

The midnight luncheon served Saturday night came from the cafe of Brother Pat Mooney who gave the service his personal attention and received the praises of those who partook of the feast. Last evening the dinner was served by the Hinkle brothers of the Mizpah Grill who brought their corps of pretty waitresses to look after the comfort of the guests.

The entire arrangements for the reception, transportation and entertainment of the guests was in the hands of Arthur Keenan, the exalted ruler of Tonopah lodge who not alone took care of the details here but made a trip to Elko for the purpose of satisfying himself that the arrangements were as nearly perfect as they could be. Lowell Daniels, the secretary, was also on the job every minute of the day and night and he is entitled to a good share of the credit for the success of the affair.

Chick Anderson, one of the candidates from Ruth, was taken to the isolated hospital yesterday afternoon to be treated for an attack of measles which came on shortly after the patient had been put through the third degree Saturday night. When he was removed to his room he probably thought he was still in the hands of his persecutors who were having some fun with him, but when he was told by a doctor that he was an actual sufferer and would probably be quarantined for ten days he gravely took out his bankroll and handed it to one of the boys saying, "Here, take and spend it. You'll need it before you get home. I can't spend a cent anyway."

BUTLER THEATER

There are many picturesque and moving scenes in the Vitagraph visualization of Hamlin Garland's novel, "The Captain of the Grey Horse Troop," which comes to the Butler tonight. One of the most touching moments is the glimpse of the Indian wife, Lithe Willow, bowed in grief over the body of her husband, Cut Finger. Cut Finger killed a settler who attempted to insult Lithe Willow. The unscrupulous settlers, cowmen and herders unite to wipe out the so-called outrage. When the young Indian is lodged in jail by the captain of the Grey Horse Troop, George Curtis, to await fair trial, the ruthless pioneers force they way into the prison and kill the redskin. This is one of the dramatic moments of the photodrama which reveals the development of the American Indian from early days to the present.

A picture quite out of the ordinary. The two favorites Antonio Moreno and Edith Storey are the stars in this production, their names alone means to us that the picture must be a good one. Also Pathe Weekly with new news and right up to the minute. He is here tomorrow, Fatty Arbuckle everybody should see this one. Matinee 1:30. Evening 7:15 and 8:45.

Wonderful Soda--

That's what they all say
—and why wouldn't they say it? It certainly is the most wonderful soda we have ever seen, and probably the very best soda that can be produced today. That is the reason. First, purity of ingredients, then careful manipulation, then a sanitary fountain and the cleanest and nearest service. That's what makes it good. That should appeal to you, and induce you to meet and treat at our fountain, now and for the balance of the summer. Any flavor you want! all the old-timers, and the newest ones.
